

STOCKS

MINE CONTROL BEING BOUGHT

Eastern Crowd Preparing to Take Hold of Property Near City.

ORE AND BULLION OUTPUT

STRIKE IN THE UTAH—FROM THE UNCLE SAM.

A deal was being rounded out in this city yesterday which, if consummated, will result in the control of the Killmanick company's property, east of Centerville, passing into the hands of eastern operators. An offer for 200,000 of the 500,000 shares of the company has been tendered and local shareholders were yesterday contributing from their holdings a sufficient number of shares to round out the treasury stock to the amount demanded by the purchasers.

The figure offered for the stock was not made public, but one of the heaviest stockholders stated during the afternoon that the closing of the transaction would give the company a splendid working capital. The man representing the purchasing crowd is a well known Utah operator, and the fact that he has consented to round up the proposition for his eastern friends is evidence that he believes the property to be one of more than ordinary merit.

The company owns eighteen claims through which runs a well defined ledge of copper-gold ore, that has concentrated about seven tons into one and given returns of over $40 gold, 11 per cent copper and a very heavy percentage of iron as well. When opened on the surface the vein is understood to have shown a width of eight feet and over, while a tunnel is under construction which, when it has been run something like 100 feet further, will cut the vein at a vertical depth of something like 250 feet and provide a large area of stopping ground.

The property is only ten or twelve miles from this city and within a couple of miles of the railroads running between here and Ogden. With money for systematic development, a few months' work ought to convert it into a producer of merit. Because the deal has not yet been completed names of the principals in the transaction are omitted.

WEEK WITH PRODUCERS.

Output of Mines and Smelters Shows a Gratifying Increase.

One and a half settlements in this city during the past week show an increase of $20,250 over the week previous, the total, as reported by McCormick & Co., amounting to $423,300. Yesterday's settlements reached $7,200, as follows: Silver, lead, gold and copper ore, $2,250; base bullion, $2,200; gold bars, $2,200. Live shipping from Alta is largely responsible for the increase, though both Tintic and Park City have contributed very liberally toward the totals.

Reports from the valley's independent smelters also make a good showing for the week. The amount of bullion shipped by the United States company is the largest since the Tintic mine first began with the output from the company's Consolidated-Eureka smelter, including the per-carriage bullion product of the American company, which is roughly estimated at $30,000 worth, as follows:

Ringham Consolidated	182,284
United States	243,285
Utah Consolidated	243,285
American Co. (custom)	200,660

Total pounds 1,025,729
During the week the Majestic company marketed nearly forty tons of matte, which carried in excess of 4 per cent copper, but as it appears in the totals given above, it is not necessary to record it separately in the table. The company's furnace is doing fine work now, and after its product will make a material difference in the state's output of copper. All the plants are, in fact, doing splendid work these days, and as the volume of ore is as great, or greater, than ever, high averages will be maintained all around during the remainder of the year.

STRIKE IN THE UTAH.

Big Body of High-Grade Ore Opened on 700 Level.

Superintendent Charles Crismon of the Utah company's Fish Springs property, was yesterday the recipient of a communication from the foreman of the mine in which he was advised that a fine strike had been made on the 700-foot level. Though the developments of the past few months have been most gratifying, the news just received is indicative of one of the most important disclosures of the year has been made. The new chute the foreman reports that it has been widening out with every round of holes until now he can get a ton of high-grade rock with nothing left to indicate where its limits will be found. Superintendent Crismon will leave for the mine himself just as soon as the weather settles a little, and upon his arrival at camp he promises to send in full particulars of the find.

The car of ore settled for by the smelter yesterday carried higher values than any that has been marketed in several weeks, the controls showing 51 per cent lead and 25 ounces silver per ton. What the railroads will make a record that is sure to surpass even the best of the company's property. It will then be possible to market many more tons of ore which, in any camp less remote, would be classed as high grade, but which, under present conditions, it would be a senseless waste to undertake to haul the ninety miles by wagon before reaching the cars.

INSPECTED UNCLE SAM.

Mine Looks Well and Mill Will Be Completed by Dec. 1.

Manager Chipman and President Dorn of the Uncle Sam Consolidated spent Friday in an inspection of the Tintic property, concerning which very little has been said. Questioned on conditions yesterday, President Dorn said he was not disposed to enter into details, though he admitted that they would present the property in anything but a bad light.

"The mine looks very well, indeed," said he, "and the amount of milling ore in sight and the grade of it should insure a most successful operation of the mill. Regarding the latter, I can say that a most complete, substantial and well-appointed plant is going up. The contractor says he has no doubt of his ability to turn it over on schedule time, which is the first of the coming month, and if he does, the plant ought to be doing well before the end of the year. Further than that I don't know that I have anything to say at this time."

MINES OF BINGHAM.

Happenings of the Week in Utah's Great Copper Camp.

(Bingham Bulletin.)

Davey mill will start Monday on a lot of ore from the Fortune mine, and a several hundred ton lot is also reaching its bins from the Butler-Liberal.

At the mines of the Bingham Consolidated company 22 men are now employed, 15 at the Dalton & Lark and neighboring mines and seventy-eight at the Commercial.

Monday ore began to move from the Fortune mine, which is under lease to the Bingham Con. Shipments for the present will be about a carload a day. Some very rich specimens of copper are noticeable, the ore averaging 4 1/2 per cent.

In the Brooklyn 1,200 level, the other day a pocket of water was struck causing a brief suspension of work. The old mine is making a great showing.

The New Mammoth mill is no longer a "monument," it having been entirely dismantled. Machinery was shipped to the city and most of the lumber will be used at the Dalton & Lark.

At the Blue Rock and Champion, east of the Congor, Elmer Hill is putting up a small building for winter quarters. These claims are owned by George H. Davis, who has been developing them the past summer and will continue the work this winter.

Monday Tom Mayne's teams began hauling a lot of Butler-Liberal first-class to the depot that will probably amount to seven carloads. They are also hauling 400 to 500 tons of second-class to the Dewey mill. On receipt of this bit of information the "tintic" should run Butler-Liberal stock down to about 20 cents.

Next week the Copper Belt railroad will be completed to the main tunnel of the Yampa mine, when shipments to the Bingham's smelter, which have averaged fifty to sixty cars daily, will at once be increased to about 200 tons. Early this week the extension to the Yampa smelter was completed with the first train. Tuesday afternoon an engine crossed the lower trestle for the first time. Two flatcars were attached, one loaded with timbers and the other carrying Superintendent Hall and a number of men who will have it to say they were among the first to make the crossing. The trestle is substantially built and appears equal to the heavy tonnage that will soon be going over it from the Yampa to its smelter. Before the end of November the Boston Consolidated extension will also be completed, when the mine will begin delivering 200 tons of ore daily to the American Smelting & Refining company, with ore equipment at facilities for increasing the amount to 1,000 tons daily.

FINE ORE IN THE O. K.

Two Feet of 25 Per Cent Copper Rock Being Drifted On.

In its weekly review of operations by the Majestic company, Friday's Millford Times said:

"Operations were resumed by the Majestic smelter yesterday and it is now believed that there will be no further trouble. A new cable has been provided for the operation of the elevator machinery, and a small engine has also been installed to operate the elevators, which will be in use in case of trouble. No possible recurrence of the trouble that caused the shutdown.

"Considerable ore has been brought down from the O. K. but the shipments have been reduced because every available foot of space at the smelter is now filled and it is impossible to unload more ore until the furnace eats up a portion of the stock now on hand.

"Those people who had supposed that all of the high grade ore had been taken out of the O. K. were greatly mistaken. During the week a drift that was driven from the cave has opened up a body of red oxide that would cause sensation in any other mine. The drift is following two feet of this ore that will average 20 to 25 per cent copper, but, of course, the full extent of the ore body is unknown. For this reason Manager Kinon does not regard it as an important strike, as he confines his calculations to the ore in sight, realizing that while the ore body may grow larger, it may also shrink. A number of other fine pockets and chutes of high grade ore have been opened in this portion of the mine, and there is no telling what may yet be encountered."

MINING STOCK EXCHANGE.

Fair Week's Trading at Extraordinarily Slumpy Prices.

Business on the mining exchange during the week brought out 146,654 shares of stock, with a selling value of $401,150, an increase, as compared with the previous week, of 62,294 shares and $1,410,330. At the close of the week the board call yesterday a total of 22,055 shares, with a selling value of $5,555,350 changed hands. The previous week was a most discouraging one as regarded prices—utter lack of other excuse, prevailing conditions here must be attributed to the demoralized condition of the eastern markets.

Daily-West, which has fallen off $4 a share since the close of the week, and a dividend of $117,000 during October and, according to the best information obtainable, information which is believed to be absolutely correct, added $29,000 to its surplus at the same time. That it is doing any better this month is not believed for a moment. To attempt, under this explanation, to give an explanation why the property has depreciated $120,000 in value during six days, is simply out of the question. What is true of Daily-West in a general sense, at least, is true of the entire list.

The Daily-Judge company's property is demonstrating every day that it is a wonderfully big and rich mine, its earnings are constantly being increased and its future is assured. Nevertheless, the price of its stock has fallen during the week from $11.25 to $9.75—figures which represent a depreciation of $1,500,000 in the value of the mine.

Consolidated Mercier, which was selling at the ridiculously low price of $6 a share one week ago, is now going at a trifle over $6—a loss in the value of that ultra-gold proposition of approximately $20,000.

And so it has been all the way down the list. Intrinsic value and merit has had nothing at all to do with the market value of the stocks. If the game is to continue it will not long be till some of the companies will need to offer premiums to get anyone to accept their properties.

There are a number of old time, conservative operators, however, who are beginning to creep into the market again, well knowing that bargains are now in sight, come what may. These men know fully well that the market is a great deal more than they are selling for, and they are quietly loading up. Far from trying to sell the market, they are perfectly content to allow it to sag. They seldom appear on the exchange, and they try to avoid in every way doing or saying anything that would tend to tip their hands. When the market turns, whether a month, six months or a year from today, they will begin to reap the harvest which the time are now engaged in planting for them.

FAILED TO REACH MINE.

Storm Compelled Scottish Chief Party to Turn Back.

The trip of the Scottish Chief operators on Friday resulted in their failure to reach the mine. A terrific storm encountered after leaving the Silver King, a mile or so above Park City, and the divide between Thayne's and Big Cottonwood canyons was as far as the party got. When that point was reached the storm resembled an old-fashioned mountain blizzard and the snow was so deep that the horses could go no farther. It was a great disappointment to Mr. Kimberley and the entire party when they were compelled to turn back.

The afternoon was spent in an inspection of the Silver King, however, and when the city was reached at 9 o'clock Friday night the party felt that the time had been well spent, after all. Mr. Kimberley left for the east again, accompanied by Mr. Owsley, yesterday afternoon.

Mining Notes.

Manager A. H. Mayne of the Minola will visit that Park City proposition today.

Another carload of matte was billed out from the Majestic company's smelter yesterday.

Peter Porter has returned from a trip to his California property.

The Daily-West company's $117,000 dividend will be paid tomorrow.

Ed H. Mead, secretary of the La Reine company, will visit the property today.

General Manager Simon Bamberger of the Bamberger De Lamar mines left for camp again Friday night.

Three cars of ore from Tintic and one from Nevada were reported at the Pioneer sampler yesterday morning.

Silver recovered nicely from its slump on Wednesday, the rise since then having been 1 1/2 cents an ounce.

Owing to the weakness of the eastern copper market during the week, a lower local setting basis may be looked for during the next six days.

Receipts at the Taylor & Brunton sampler yesterday included four cars of ore from Bingham, one from Tintic and one from Nevada.

P. J. Donohue, the well known expert, left for Chihuahua, Mexico, last evening. He has gone to make an examination of mining property for eastern clients.

Captain Duncan MacVichie, general manager of the Bingham Consolidated company's properties, is expected home with his bride during the next three or four days.

Friday's storm piled up three feet of snow at Alta and it was necessary to shovel out the road for ore teams between the Continental and Columbus companies' mines.

Secretary James Shorten of the mining exchange called his horse on Friday yesterday afternoon. The outfit was won by Colonel Ellis, with a throw of $5,000.

The Nevada Mining company, with headquarters in this city and property at Galena, fourteen miles from Battle Mountain, Nev., has called for an assessment of one-half a cent a share on its issued stock. The $1,000 thus raised is to be expended on development work at the mine.

Superintendent James Hickey of the Comstock was down from the Park yesterday. He reports work progressing nicely in the shaft at that property. The station on the 450-foot level has not yet been completed, but just as soon as it is he will run out a test of the vein at that point before going down another hundred feet.

Manager John Sears of the Mount Nebo company's property came up yesterday with a carload of ore which he had intended to remain with until it had been sampled and sold. Late in the afternoon, however, he received a dispatch telling him that an explosion had taken place at the mine and that a man had been killed. He at once made preparations to return to camp, leaving on the first train for the south.

Manager Frank L. Wilson was yesterday in receipt of a letter from his brother, who is in charge of operations at the Lucy L. company's Clifton property, advising that the great tunnel was 100 feet and that much iron was making its appearance in the face. This is taken to indicate that the great vein is being rapidly approached, with every possibility that it will be tapped much sooner than expected.
